
Both exist only during training; either way the exported network is the unmodified baseline.